Linda Sackschewsky Joins Garner Industries as Chief Financial Officer

(Lincoln, Nebraska—April 28, 2016) Linda Sackschewsky of Seward, Nebraska has joined Garner Industries as Chief Financial Officer. In her leadership role, Sackschewsky will oversee finance and accounting, human resources, and information technology departments for the company’s jobshop and BinMaster process instrumentation manufacturing operations. Linda joins the company with over 22 years of experience in accounting management and leadership, internal and external auditing, and the implementation of financial systems in both the public and private sectors. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska Lincoln with a degree in business administration with an accounting emphasis and holds a certified public accountant certificate.

“With over 60 years of manufacturing for a wide variety of industries and ISO 9001:2000 certification, Garner is ideally poised for future growth both domestically and in global markets,” said Garner Industries CEO Scott McLain. “The addition of Linda to our team will ensure the company grows its IT infrastructure and financial systems to support future growth.”

About Garner Industries
